DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The term "0Cr18Ni9" in the second paragraph on page 1 appears to be a typo-error since "0" is not needed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1 to 6, 9 and 10 are objected to because of the following informalities:
3. Preamble of claim is awkwardly recited. For example, claim 1, instead of "Application of a kind of alloy in kitchen utensil products, wherein the material comprises in chemical composition", it is recommended to use language such as ---Method of using an alloy to make kitchen utensil products, wherein said alloy has a composition (in wt%) comprising...---. Same preamble would be applicable to claims 4 to 6 and 10.
4. Also claims 9 to 10 recite, "Alloy graded by SUS436L". Language such as --alloy in accordance with SUS436L—is recommended.
5. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

6. Claims 6 and 9 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claims 1 and 7, respectively. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k). Note claims

Art Unit: 1742

6 and 1 are the same since SUS436L recited by claim 6 is the same chemical composition recited by claim 1. Same reasoning applies to claims 9 and 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1 to 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 3,183,080 (hereinafter US '080), Japanese patent 8-209308 (hereinafter JP'308), Japanese patent 52-127424 (hereinafter JP'424) or Japanese patent 10-130786 (hereinafter JP'786).

9. US'080 in claims 1 to 4 in columns 5 and 6 and lines 27 to 29 in column 1, the English abstract of JP'308, the English abstract of JP'424 and the English abstract of JP'786, each disclose a ferritic stainless steel alloy used for kitchen utensil products and having a composition with constituents whose wt% ranges overlap those recited by the claims; such overlap in wt% ranges establishes a prima facie case of obviousness because it would be obvious for one skilled in the art to select the claimed alloy wt% ranges over the broader disclosure of the prior art since the prior art teaches the same utility, see MPEP2144.05.

10. More specifically, prior art teaches examples that closely meet the claimed composition. See US'080, alloy 1 in table 1 of columns 3-4; JP'308, alloy 32 in table 2 on page 4; JP'424, alloys 14, 15 and 17 to 19 in table 1 on page 111; and JP'786, alloys 1 to 9 on page 5.

11. Also prior art teaches using steel to make kitchen appliances or utensils which would include pots, pans, bowls, cookware boiler, steamer or cooker, etc. as recited by the claims. More specifically, JP'308 teaches using steel as an inner pot material having superior electromagnetic induction heating characteristics and hence meet claim 10. Even though prior art does not teach using cookware integrative or as a compound base as recited by claims 4 and 8, respectively, such would not be a patentable difference since it would be a matter of choice well within the skill of the artisan and productive of no new and unexpected results.

Drawings

12. The drawings are objected to because the Chinese characters need to be replaced with English wording. Also figure 4 is incomplete with no figure. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
